FIELDDEY'S KOOKSHOW DROPS IN FOR THE PRO

The colour and spectacle won't just be on the beach during the Drug Aware Margaret River Pro this month!

Up-and-coming (almost) superstar artist Fielddey is heading south with Fielddey's Kookshow – Dropping in on Surf Art.

Five venues around Margaret River will feature her original artworks painted on full-sized surfboards.

Fielddey's first board art exhibition promises a feast for the eyes, a definite talking point and images to ponder at Gnarabar, Warrahwillah Gallery, MuKau Gallery, Settlers Tavern and Margaret River Visitor Centre.

Nestled in the sweaty crease between surf, tattoo and graffiti art, this Perth-based water-lover paints surfboards the likes of which have never been seen around these parts. Plus they're a tad on the rude and brazen side.

If you haven't already been introduced to the world of Fielddey, get ready for a new style of genre-breaking art that's cheeky, anti-establishment, raw, colourful and of course would look fabulous on the wall of your home or office or in a man cave.

It's free to look (or just wonder at what this gal dreams about at night!) and all works are for sale through MuKau Gallery. The boards will be on exhibition from March 15 – 24.
